The Bulls in Control. A RISING MARKET IN THE FACE OF ADVERSE CIR-CUMSTANCES. NEW YORK, July 3 .- Wall street, 1:50 p.m.-The Post says: The increased strength manifested in the stock market in the last few days was continued this afternoon, not withstanding the adverse circumstances that we are on the eve of the longest holiday the Stock Exchange has had for several years. This latter fact was calculated to test the temper of the market very thoroughly, as it would show whether the bears were willing to commit themselves to their short sales for three days, and also whether the bulls were willing to take their profits of the last two or three days, or whether they were confident enough to hold for higher prices. The experience of the forenoon show that the bulls have control of the market. The Baltimore Markets.

THE HOUSE TO ADJOURN OVER THE FOURTH. Shortly after two o'clock this afternoon Mr. Holman moved that when the House adjourn it should be to meet on Saturday. On making the motion he said it would facilitate adjournment. This provoked quite a discussion, Mr. Browne, of Indiana, urging that such an adjournment would interfere with the Mexican pension bill. Mr. Randall said, on the contrary, that it would not, as that bill might be taken up at once and considered all night, if necessary. The motion was afterwards withdrawn, but was at once renewed by Mr. Randall. The vote stood 101 for and 51 against. The point of no quorum was made and tellers were ordered, and the vote resulted—120 for adjournment and 54 AN EARLY SESSION SATURDAY. The House decided this afternoon to meet at 9

Bill Jones, the Avenger. HIS TRIAL POR SECOTING AT GUITEAU, THE AS-SASSIN, GOES OVER TILL OCTOBER NEXT. To-day, in the Criminal Court, Judge Wylle, the ttention of the court was called to the case of Wm. Jones, indicted for an assault and battery with intent to kill Chas. J. Guiteau, on November 19, 1881. Guiteau was subsequently hanged for the murder of President Garfield. Messrs. R. K. Elliott and R. R. Perry appeared for the defendant, and the former said they were there to ask that an early day be fixed for the trial, before the recess. This indictment was found in November, 1881, and he submitted that it was old enough to be tried. Mr. Taggart said that the government did not desire to keep the case pending, but one of the prin-cipal witnesses was now out of the city.

Mr. Perry suggested that the court might be able to hear the case on an agreed statement of facts, and, under the circumstances, he did not see how the government could make a case of intent to kill.

The court said the case could not be tried on an agreed statement, and directed the case to go over

THE FITZ JOHN PORTER BILL Its Passage Over the Veto in the Hor

The Fitz John Porter bill was returned to the House by the President yesterday with a message, setting forth his reasons for not approving the measure, as stated in THE STAR last evening. The message was read from the clerk's desk, and a vote to pass the bill over the veto was taken at once, Gen. Sclocum calling for the previous question. The bill was passed over the veto, receiving more than the necessary two-thirds vote. It was then sage, the friends of Porter hissing, and the oppo-sent to the senate. Considerable feeling was mani-tested in the House during the reading of the mescents applauding. ANALYSIS OF THE VOTE. The vote in favor of overriding the veto stood 168 to 78. The following republicans voted with the democrats: Bayne, Belford, Burleigh, Jeffords, Kean, Laird, Long, Lyman, Phelps, Poland, Ran-ney, Ray (N.Y.), Ray (N.H.), Rockwell, Smith and York. No democrat voted against the bill. The vote in the Senate to-day, rejecting the bill, is recorded in the regular report of congressional proceedings in this paper. THE MESSAGE says that "after a careful consideration of the bill entitled an act 'for the relief of Fitz-John Porter,' !

clause is in the terms following: 'That the Presi dent be and he is hereby authorized to nominate and by and with the advice and consent of the senate to appoint Fitz-John Porter, late a major general United States volunteer and brevet briga-dier general and colonel in the army, to the posi-tion of colonel in the army of the United States of the same grade held by him at the time of his dismissal from the army by sentence of court martial promulgated January 27, 1863, &c., &c. It is apparent that should this bill become a law it will create a new office which can be filled by the appointment of the particular individual whom it specifies, and cannot be filled otherwise; or, it may be said, with perhaps greater precision of state-ment, that it will create a new office on condition that the particular person designated shall be to pay a dollar for their new summer hats. The custom has been for the boys to buy their uniforms and for the company to furnish the hats, and when an encroachment by the legislative branch of the government on the authority of the executive. As ongress has no power under the constitution to nominate and appoint an officer, and cannot lawfully impose on the President the duty of nomina-ting and appointing to office any particular indi-vidual of its own selection, this bill, if it can fairly be construed as requiring the President to make the nomination, and by and with the advice and consent of the senate, the appointment which it authorizes is in manifest violation of the consti-tution. If such be not its just interpretation it must be regarded as a mere enactment of advice and counsel, which lacks in the very hature of things the force of positive law and can serve no useful purpose on the statute books."

The President adds that there are other causes which deter him from approving the bill. He thinks the investigation of the court-martial which con-victed Porter was thorough and conscientious, and its judgment was final and conclusive, and refers to the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States sustaining the conclusiveness of the Theater, on February 27th last, which article is charged to have been talse and libelious, was taken up. Mr. Taggart appeared for the government and Messrs. James Coleman and C. S. Moore for the defendants.

It follows from this that neither the President bot Congress has any power to set such judgments aside, which the President thinks is the practical effect of the Porter bill. Referring to the recommendation of the board of three army officers mendation of the board of three army officers. The first witness was Lewis P. Seibold, reporter on the Republican, who testified that Mr. Nicholas was the managing editor and Mr. Robertson the the court-martial, the President says that the city editor of the paper at the time in question; that on the night of February 27th they were present. Witness identified the article, and stated that martial related, and under circumstances that
